Academic Information

Education System

Class format is based on lectures, readings, class participation and self-study. Students are expected to attend all lectures, to complete all course-related assignments and readings, and to sit exams in order to receive a course grade.

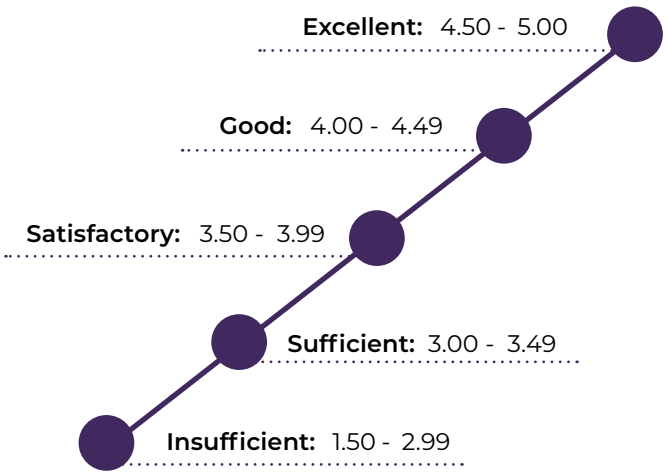

- The academic semester has 16 weeks of class; however, some courses are taught in an 8-week period.

Recommended Workload

Students must register for a minimum of 5 credits and a maximum of 20 credits. They should adhere to the minimum credit requirements set by their home university.

At Universidad de los Andes, one academic credit corresponds to 48 hours of total coursework, including both in-class and independent study time. Additionally, the University does not establish official conversion rates to other credit systems, such as ECTS.
Each partner institution is responsible for determining how Uniandes credits are converted within its own academic framework.

Grading System

Pass and Fail (P - F)

These grades apply for the courses that, based on determination by the Academic Council, receive non numeric grades. The credits for courses that are passed count as graduation requirements, but they will not be taken into consideration in the calculation of semester average. (Art 55 reglamento Estudiantes de Pregrado).

Academic inquiries for exchange students will be addressed by the academic coordinators. Below is the list of academic coordinators:

Prerequisites

Students are responsible for choosing the courses according to the necessary requirements. If the student does not meet the criteria needed, they should not ask to be enrolled in the class.

Online Course Registration

It is important to remember that the University applies the "first come, first served" rule. If you do not register on time, it will be difficult to find places on the courses of your choice. https://bit.ly/3L7rDn6

Sport Courses

Students can also register for sports classes if desired. In that case, it is important to know that each class has 1 credit and will be graded on a pass or fail basis. Or they can freely practice sports in the facilities according to the policies established. https://bit.ly/3quDjqc

Orientation Session

Universidad de los Andes offers a three-day orientation session the week before classes begin. While this orientation session for international students is highly recommended, it is not mandatory.

Visa Information

For students whose nationality does not require a tourist visa:

The immigration officer at the port of entry should stamp the student's passport with the PID (Student Entry Permit) upon presentation of the admission letter (for stays up to 180 days).

- This permit is valid for 90 days and must be renewed at Migración Colombia for an additional 90 days.
- For stays longer than 180 days, a student visa is required.

For students whose nationality requires a tourist visa:

- Regardless of the length of stay, a visa needs to be obtained prior to arriving in Colombia. Further information: https://bit.ly/2AsD6ug

- When arriving on a visa, students are required to obtain an ID card (Cédula de Extranjería) within 15 days of arrival in Colombia. This procedure costs approximately $130 USD. All information about this process can be found https://bit.ly/3wAxsq1

Please remember to check the entry requirements for Colombia in advance. You can verify them with the Colombian Ministry of Foreign Affairs, "Migración Colombia" or with the airline you will be using to travel to Colombia.

All students are responsible for obtaining their respective immigration documents. To be enrolled and registered at Uniandes, students must have either the PID stamp, a visa/Cédula de Extranjería, or a Cédula Colombiana (for Colombian students).
