Programs of Study

Courses Offered
MSU offers 250+ areas of study, most of which are open to exchange students without restriction. A list of majors and minors, as well as the course catalog, can be found under the Academics tab on the MSU website.

Restrictions
Architecture, graphic design, fine arts, film, and photography classes are extremely limited for exchange students. Most of these classes are only open to students who are majors in these subjects at their home universities and require students to present a portfolio of completed work. Classes offered by the College of Nursing are not open to exchange students.

Our Identity

Our unique environment inspires big ideas and bold adventures. Strong academics, real-world research, creative projects, and the energy of a friendly and active Rocky Mountain community define MSU and those who study, live, and play here.
